OVERHEARD AT THE DOCKS

Ahoy Skipper, what's new? Well Matey, did you notice those men wokin' on the Tellico Village docks? Yes, what were they doing? They were installing electrical ground detectors on all the dock electric boxes. Ground detectors? On water docks, say what? Skipper. That's an electrical term. Ya see, under certain conditions, electrical current from the docks or the boats tied to the docks can "leak" into the water & shock anyone in the water. And that aint good! The "Ground Detectors" prevent this! Aye Skipper, see ya 'round the bend. Public Works
